The World Post-Covid, an Economic, Financial and Social Outlook

Thursday, July 2nd, 6.30 – 7.30 pm CET

The Coronavirus wave profoundly shook our society, undermining many of our certainties. While we begin to see an end to this period of crisis, one might wonder what is waiting for us at the horizon. Action Institute invites you to an exclusive event with PartnerRe's CIO Nikhil Srinivasan, to discuss how the post Covid-19 world will be. The devastating impact of the necessary containment measure will have huge consequences not only on the World's economy, but also on the future of globalization, technological development and democracy.

The World after the Coronavirus may look unrecognizable to us.

The webinar will be held under Chatham House rule.
